Something to celebrate almost every day!

July is the seventh month of the year in the Julian and Gregorian Calendars and the fourth of seven months to have a length of 31 days. It was named by the Roman Senate in honor of Roman general Julius Caesar, it being the month of his birth.

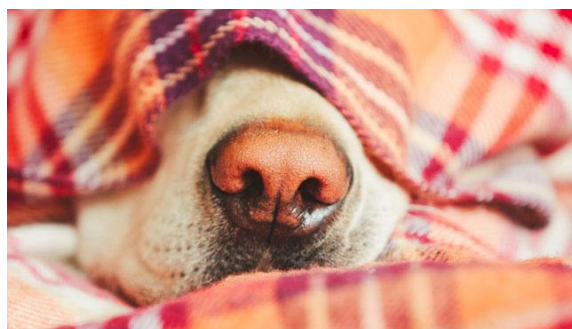

What do you know about the July Hound?

July has it's own breed of dog

More dogs go missing over the 4th of July than any other day of the year.

Tips to keep them SAFE!

The Fourth of July is all about fireworks, barbecues, and independence. But as with any holiday, it's also about the dessert. Celebrate liberty with these almost guilt-FREE treats, from fruity crisps to keto-friendly cheesecake and delicious no-churn ice creams.
